STAR RATING OF MINOR MINERALS

1.0. Introduction

1.1. Purpose

The purpose of this document is to present a detailed description of the Star Rating System of Minor Minerals. It will explain the purpose and features of the system, the interfaces of the system, what the system will do, the constraints under which it must operate and how the system will react to external stimuli. This document is intended for both the users and the developers.

1.2. Scope of the Project

This software system will be a Star Rating System for Minor Minerals. This system will be designed to take inputs from the miner and according to that give points and then followed by a Star Rating.

1.3. Overview of the Document

This document gives an overview of the functionality of the product. It describes the requirements and is used to establish a context for the technical requirements specification in the next chapter.

It also serves as a user manual for Lessees for them to enter the information required for completing their self-assessment.

The login page allows lessees to access the system by providing three key details: Username, Password, and Reporting Year. The Username corresponds to the Lessee ID assigned to each lessee. By default, the Password is also set as the Lessee ID; however, lessees may update their password after their initial login for enhanced security. The Reporting Year field specifies the operational period for which data will be managed. For the current cycle, the Reporting Year is fixed as 2024–2025.

The Total Points Scored section provides a consolidated summary of performance across all modules. Each module has a predefined Applicable Maximum Points value, representing the highest score that can be achieved for that module based on the criteria set in the assessment framework.

- Sum of Applicable Maximum Points (a): The total possible points that can be earned in the module, considering only the questions relevant to the reporting year.
- Sum of Points Scored (b): The actual points obtained by the lessee in the module based on their responses and validations.
- Percentage (b/a × 100): The percentage score for the module, calculated by dividing the points scored by the applicable maximum points and multiplying by 100.
